

Enhanced Smart Teen Project

Since 2015, our school has been participating in the Enhanced Smart Teen Project organised by the Education Bureau in conjunction with various uniform units. This year, a five-day Smart Teen Challenge Camp (STCC) was hosted by the Hong Kong Adventure Corps (HKAC) for 25 of our students at their camp-site in Sai Kung from 22 to 26 October. The aims of camp included enhancing students' problem-solving and leadership skills, self-confidence and resilience.

During the camp, the students underwent a wide range of adventurous training activities including foot drill and discipline training, activities planning, land navigation and camping, as well as outdoor rock climbing and air-rifle marksmanship training. Not only did the participants get the chance to try their hand at something different, they also learnt the importance of self-discipline and team spirit. Parents who attended the closing ceremony held on the last day were very proud to see the brilliant performance of their children in the graduation parade.
